Rick Kline, Jr., President, Gardner Business Media Inc.

BIO: Rick Kline Jr. is the president and fourth-generation co-owner of Gardner Business Media Inc., America's leading publisher of durable goods related media. He has deep knowledge of the functions and purchasing trends of the U.S. original equipment manufacturers and manufacturing supply chain as well as extensive global relationships.

Gardner Business Media has been the premier publisher for the heart of manufacturing in North America—the plants, shops, factories, and people that make them work. Gardner was founded in 1928 in Cincinnati, Ohio, with the introduction of Modern Machine Shop magazine—the premier metalworking and machine tool publication in North America. Since then, Gardner has built its niche in one area: manufacturing. The company brings together industrial buyers and sellers through 12 integrated media brands serving the industrial metalworking, plastics, composites, finishing, additive and automotive industries.
